The Local Offer for Parents

The Local Offer gives details of services available for you and your child to access in your local area, for example a specialist group for you both to attend, or a parent support group.

You are able to search by category, or keywords, and filter to find services relevant to you. The school or college (if your child is already in education) will be able to show you the information about what they offer for children with SEN and disabilities.

The Local Offer and Statutory Assessment

When your child is referred for a statutory assessment (RSA) for an Education Health and Care plan, you can use the Local Offer to find support services such as the Information, Advice and Support Services Network (IASS) and the Parent Forum Group (NPFG). You can find information and guidance about the RSA process, the legislation and code of practice and SEN descriptors used in schools.
